Enamel Therapy: The Next Generation of Care (3 CE Credits)

Kristine Hodsdon RDH, BS

Saturday September 13, 2008

8:30 AM – 11:30 PM

A changing paradigm in caries management has widened our decisions in dental preventive care. With terms such as "minimally invasive" and "remineralization technologies," we are faced with a new decision model in diagnosing and treating the caries disease process. This program will review the historic trends in caries control and introduce the exciting new trends in desensitization, topical fluorides, prophylaxis pastes and varnish therapies.

Course Objectives:

Discuss trends in the management of caries in all patient profiles and age groups.

Compare and discuss the current delivery systems which contain technologies claiming enamel restoration and remineralization.

Formulate an effective treatment plan in enamel therapy.

Going Deep: Uncovering the DNA of High Performance (3 CE Credits)

Kristine Hodsdon RDH, BS

Saturday September 13, 2008

2:00 AM – 5:00 PM

The new domains of positive psychology and coaching psychology have taught us what it takes to be our best. Professionals can no longer afford to only address cognitive capacities while ignoring the evidence which demonstrates the connections between sustainable high performance and overall wellness.

Using a DNA metaphor, this program will exemplify five science-based areas of health and well-being. Our relationships are the double-stranded backbone of our practices. Learn to engage and develop the "meaning, strengths, emotions and energy" necessary to build better selves, high performance teams, and exceptional patient outcomes.

Course Objectives:

Introduction to the Well Coaches® DNA of Well-Being Model

Integrating evidence based behavioral principles for promoting robust change

Applying technology for replicable and measurable enterprise

Choose, refine and commit to 2 specific and realistic personal and professional goals

As a practicing clinician, industry consultant, international speaker, wellness coach and author, Kristine A. Hodsdon RDH, BS has spent over 20 years building on what is right and supporting change through her articles and lectures to thousands of dental professionals.

She has authored the collaborative book, Demystifying Smiles: Strategies for the Dental Team, the first aesthetic chapter in, Mosby's Dental Hygiene: Concepts, Cases and Competencies, 2nd Edition and continues to actively publish in dental and dental hygiene journals. She is involved in numerous professional organizations, including the National Speaker's Association, American Dental Hygienists' Association and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry.

In 1994 Kristine was appointed by Republican Governor Steve Merrill to a 3 year term on the New Hampshire Board of Dental Examiners, and in 1997 Democratic Governor Jeanne Shahenn re-appointed her to a 5 year term.

For 4 years, Kristine authored a monthly column in RDH Magazine, a PennWell Corporation publication. Since 2005, she has been the Director of the RDH eVillage. The RDH eVillage has a circulation of over 32,000. Her goal is to establish the RDH eVillage as the leading interactive on-line media with relevant and new content. Kristine's mission is to champion wellbeing and performance by focusing on what is working and by co-creating with patients, colleagues, respected leaders and associations.
